

JFHQ-FRG

October 2012

Newsletter

Apples, pumpkins, pie, Friday night lights, vibrant leaves and invigorating fresh air is abound! How fortunate we are to experience all that Maine has to offer here in the fall season, HOME SWEET HOME. Get enthused, get out, experience and enjoy the last days of fall!

By now, you should be receiving email announcements from our JFHQ-FRG hotmail address. There are so many great opportunities and informative pieces coming your way. I hope that you continue to find these benefits and resources helpful. If ever, you have a lead that we may not be aware of, then we encourage you to please share and email us. A few of you may be thinking: "What, why am I not getting emails and everyone else is???" Never fear, again you may email and tell us you're interested at: JFHQ-FRG@hotmail.com and we will ensure your name is added to our email list.

The FRG has added a new link to the Maine Army National Guard website, type in : <http://www.me.ngb.army.mil/>, click on the Family Program Office tab then continue on to Joint Force Headquarter's. We will try to keep this site updated on a monthly basis for now.

Don't forget the 2 websites we mentioned last month: Tutor.com & PositiveParentingSolutions.com. Both these resources are highly recommended and are proven to be very helpful. Make your child's school and life experiences be a memorable and successful one and sign up now!! They are both free to you as a benefit to the Soldier's family.

It is never too late to join and become a member (no matter the amount of time that you can offer) of our Joint Force Headquarter's Family Readiness Group. You may contact us at our JFHQ-FRG hotmail account, if interested. Our next FRG meeting will be held on Saturday, October 13th from 9-11am at the Hayword classroom (Old RTI classroom) on Camp Keyes.

Melissa Thibodeau
JFHQ-FRG Leader